

Netherlands - Belgium – Luxembourg - Germany - Four Country Vennbahn Cycle Tour (2025)
8 Days/ 7 Nights
Individual Self Guided

In the summer of 2013 the 'Vennbahn', Europe's longest and most beautiful continuous cross border cycle path (125 km) on disused railway tracks, was officially opened. The 'Vennbahn' (with an average climb of < 2%) passes through three different countries, from the German city of Aachen, near the Dutch border, via East Belgium to Troisvierges in the Grand Duchy of Luxembourg. The route, which owes its name to the unique 'High Fens' nature reserve and has experienced an eventful history as the 'Vennbahn', has given a new purpose. The past glories of this once important railway link are still visible at various locations along the route, where panels with text and historic photos accentuate this theme.

Itinerary Day to Day

Day 1: Arrival in Maastricht or Gravenvoeren

Check-in in your hotel. Take some time today to enjoy the oldest town in the Netherlands. If there is no more availability in Maastricht you will depart from 's-Gravenvoeren.

Day 2: Maastricht/ Gravenvoeren - Eupen 60/ 45 km

Soon after departure from Maastricht you are cycling in Belgium. Past 's-Gravenvoeren and Hombourg you cycle to Raeren, where in a castle a pottery museum is located. Continue your route to Eupen, the capital of the East Cantons. Enjoy the last 7 kilometers of today's route 'downhill' direction Lake Eupen!

Day 3: Eupen - Sankt Vith 61 km

Remarkably, nearly all of today's route is closed to motorized vehicles. Climb gradually to a height of 660m above N.A.P. level, enjoying the natural beauty of the High Fens. From Kalterherberg on, the route follows the 'Vennbahn' cycling path. It's an easy ride past Sourbrodt marshalling yard to Waimes; and then past Montenau artisanal ham smoker to Sankt Vith.

Day 4: Sankt Vith - Clervaux 52/56 or 32/36 +

train On the way to Luxembourg, still on the 'Vennbahn' cycling path, don't miss the castle ruins of Burg Reuland. Shortly after, cross the border into Luxembourg to reach Troisvierges. At this point, choose either to catch a slow train to Clervaux or to cycle a splendid route with some stiff climbs and delightful descents!

Day 5: Clervaux - Bütgenbach 66/62 km

Set off for the tripoint where Luxembourg, Belgium and Germany meet, near the village of Ouren. From there, cycle a lovely route through the Our Valley northwards past Schönberg. Leaving the River Our behind, climb to a height of 500 meters to enjoy wonderful views during the last stretch of the route to Bütgenbach.

Day 6: Bütgenbach - Aachen 68 km

Take it easy today! You will cycle easily over the Vennbahn towards Aachen. Take a break in one of the lovely historical cities of Monschau or Kornelimünster. The last 30 km to Aachen are going downhill so you will have some energy left to admire the beautiful inner city of Aachen.

Day 7: Aachen to Maastricht- Gravenvoeren 38/51 km

On your final cycling day, head back from Aachen to Maastricht. The route in Holland you will follow the long distance cycling route LF 13. Enjoy the hills and beautiful panoramas of scenic southern Limburg.

Day 8: Departure

After a hotel breakfast, your holiday has come to an end. It's time to make your own way home.
