Itinerary Day to Day

Day 1: Arrival to St Margrethen

Day 2: St Margrethen-Lichtensteig 80 km 1690m+ 1470m-

Uphill and down dale in rolling Appenzell, where it's said that every second house is a tavern. Friendly farming country with its own character, a finely structured landscape at the foot of the Säntis, marked by a quaint dialect and a dry wit.

Day 3: Lichtensteig-Altdorf 107 km 1760+ 1940-

Toggenburg more forested and rugged, a land of nooks and crannies where water once provided work and death. Below the alluvial Linth plain, «Zigerland» with mighty limestone cliffs, Glarus once a textile region of international importance. On the climb to the Klausenpass: the Urnerboden, the largest Swiss alp. On the other side of the 1948m pass the Schächental, a mountain landscape with the traditional farming method of moving livestock from one grazing ground to the next.

Day 4: Altdorf- Sorenberg 85 km 1790+ 1095-

The mighty Vierwaldstättersee with its impressive panorama. In contrast, the shallow Sarnersee in Obwalden. A treat for pedal-pushing fans: the Glaubenbielen Pass (1611m), a steep pass into the Entlebuch

Day 5: Sorenberg-Thun 50-70 km 645-885+ 1235-1490-

After the alpine marshland in rain-rich Glaubenbielen you arrive at the biosphere reserve around Schratzenfluh. Not less enchanting: the hills and dales of the Emmental, classic, pre-alpine rolling countryside.

Day 6: Thun-Gruyeres 94 km 1675+ 1520-

From cabbage country through the rugged Sense ravines to Fribourg im Üechtland. The old city with its cathedral and 200 gothic house facades enjoys a picturesque position in a loop of the river Saane. Delightful landscape and a man-made lake: Lac de la Gruyère, land of «Crème de la Gruyère and black and white cows. On a hill, the tiny castle town of Gruyère with its busy mass of tourists.

Day 7 Gruyeres-Aigle 65 km 1325+ 1660-

Much Quieter in Obergreyerz and uphill through lonely, rugged Alpine pastures to Hongrin, occasionally resounding with army artillery fire. Intoxicating 1000m descent to the mildness of the Rhonetal, a sensuous downhill run through all climate zones.

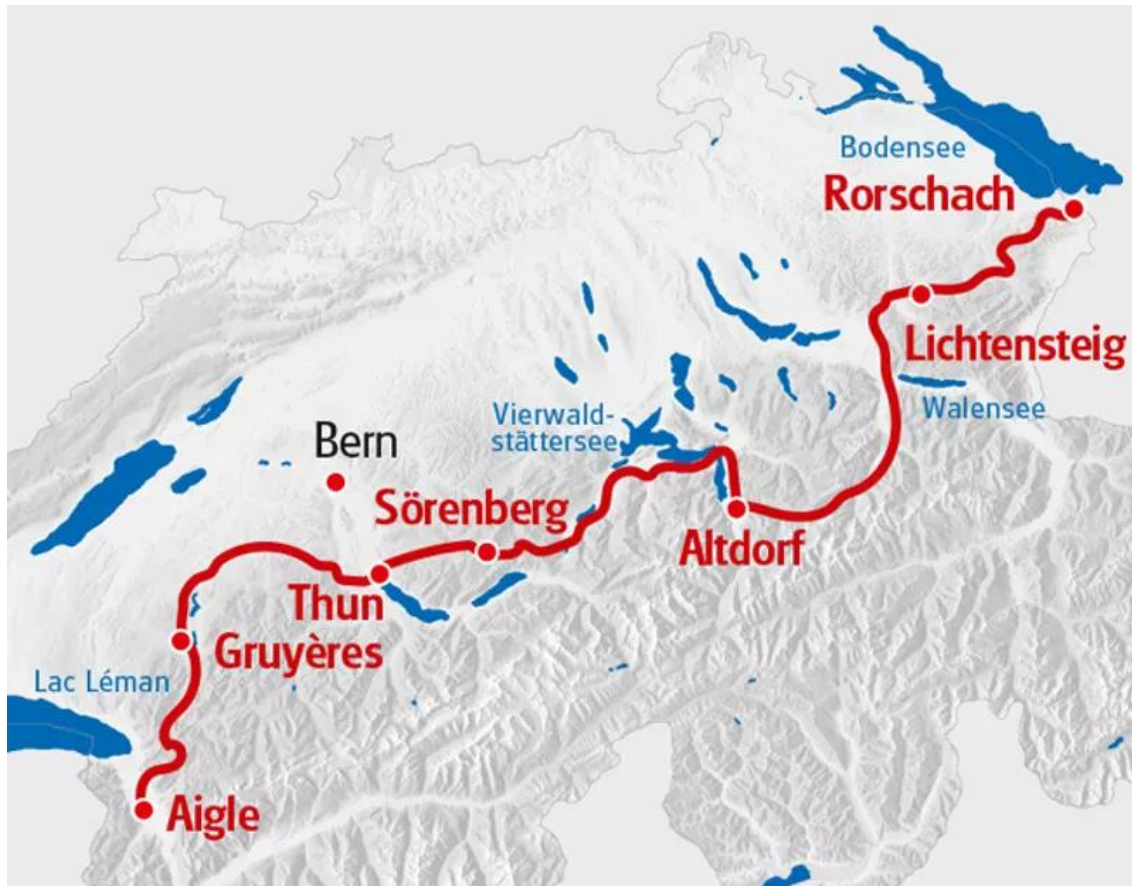

Day 8: Departure or extension
