Itinerary

Day 1: Individual Arrival in the Ramsau

Day 2: Ramsau – Hofpürgl Hut 13 km + 800 m – 660 m

Short bus ride and hike up to the summit Sulzenschneid. Via the Linzer Path you cross the Alpine pasture area 'Rinderfeld' with all kinds of cattle grazing. Then your route leads below the peaks along a high altitude path towards the impressive Bischofsmütze (mitre) and then to the foot of this well-known rock formation to the Hofpürgl hut, where a cozy evening in the hut awaits.

Day 3: Hofpürgl Hut – Gosau 11 km + 330 m – 540 m

Anticipate an amazing morning mood on the mountain, followed by high altitude trekking with stunning views below the sharp ridges of the Gosau Mountain. Then via Alpine pastures with grazing cattle all the way to the alp Stuhlalm, which invites to a break and to sample some of the home made produce. Below the peak Donnerkogel (summit ascent possible) to the Gablonzer hut with breathtaking views onto the Dachstein glacier and down into the Gosau valley and Lake Gosau. Break and cable car descent to Lake Gosau.

Day 4: Gosau – Bad Goisern 15 km + 860 m – 1060 m

From Gosau the route takes you along forest paths via the alp Iglmoosalm to the hut of the Goiserer Alpine Club, situated on the mountain crest, which offers stunning views onto the Goiserer valley and Lake Hallstätter See. You have again the option of a summit ascent onto the mountain Hochkalmberg with the rock formation called 'Stone Indian'. Descent via the Waldsteig and the luge run to Bad Goisern on Lake Hallstätter See.

Day 5: Circular Walk Hallstatt 13 km + 540 – 230 m

From Bad Goisern via the scenic outpost pavillion Giselowarte and through marvellous and unspoilt farm land to the Soleweg path, running along the historic salt pipeline all the way up to the Hallstätter salt mine, which we strongly recommend you visit. Anticipate a tremendous viewing plateau at the Rudolfs tower with views over Hallstatt and onto the Krippenstein mountain. Descent by cable car to Hallstatt, the world-famous UNESCO World Heritage village with countless tourist attractions and its unique beauty. By boat and train back to Bad Goisern.

Day 6: Bad Goisern – Stoderzinken 19 km + 1300 m – 370 m

After a short transfer the route takes you through the forest to the summit Hochmühleck. Via the summit to the Viehberg alp, where traditional huts invite to a break. A little bit towards the valley now and then once more through a remote karst and mountain pine area up to the Brünner hut situated on the Stoderzinken. You spend a recuperating night in the mountains directly below the sharp peak of the Stoderzinken.

Day 7: Stoderzinken – Ramsau 19 km + 750 m – 1380 m

Today you cross the high plateau of the Styrian Dachstein plateau. Through mountain pine and larch forests, past little mountain lakes you hike over solitary and vast karst and gravel areas upwards and down, heading for the majestic Dachstein. This high altitude trekking tour beneath spectacular summits through untouched nature towards the mountaineer station Guttenberghaus is the perfect final route of your week of trekking around the Dachstein!

Day 8: Individual departure or extra days
